

CloudStack Collaboration Conference Virtual

November 9-12, 2021

Biggest Get Together of the Global CloudStack Community

ABOUT

CloudStack Collaboration Conference is a 4-day virtual get together for the global Apache CloudStack community and people interested in open-source technology.

The virtual event is aimed at developers, operators and users to discuss and evolve the open-source software project, its functionality and real-world operability. This event will meet you with the Apache CloudStack family, community leaders, project members and contributors.

We encourage you to explore this brochure to get a sense of the experiences we will create. CloudStack Collaboration Conference is all about creating opportunities!

The talks and sessions at CloudStack Collaboration conference are selected via a CFP process and selected for their technical merit. Many of the talks are given by user organisations. This year we also plan a limited number of sponsored sessions to allow eco-system companies to share their products and services.
